THE SUBSIDY QUESTION.

Attorney General Andrews says that his office has never rendered an opinion that the Honolulu Home For Incurables is not entitled to the subsidy voted by the Legislature. The opinion rendered was that institutions which charged patients as the Queen's Hospital and the Kapiolani Maternity Home do, fees fixed by the trustees, cannot receive a subsidy. The Attorney General said that he thought Auditor Fisher must have been under a misapprehension when he returned the voucher for the Home For Incurables.

REVOLVERS DRAWN.

When Officers Van Giesen and Mokeha went out to Kamuki yesterday to serve a writ of possession in favor of Cecil Brown for a residence occupied by J. W. A. Redhouse, they were met by Mrs. Redhouse who pointed a revolver and a parlor rifle at the officers. She said she had been instructed by her husband to shoot anyone who trespassed upon the property or entered the house without asking permission. The officers covered Mrs. Redhouse with their revolvers, whereupon she surrendered, being overcome almost with nervousness. She was taken to the police station, but was not entered as arrested.

LAHAINA LOCALS.

The number of steamers that arrived at this port during the year 1903 was 451.

The old officers were re-instated at Lahaina on Tuesday evening. Henry Dickenson has some flourishing peach trees that were shipped safely from New York not long ago. The gardening possibilities of these islands might easily be largely developed.

THE ARREST OF DELEGATE KUHIO

THE WASHINGTON STAR'S ACCOUNT OF HOW IT HAPPENED AND WHAT HAPPENED.

The Washington Star of January 5 contains the following account of the arrest of Delegate Kuhio.

A charge of disorderly conduct was filed against Jonah K. Kalanians'ole, delegate to Congress from Hawaii, in the District branch of the Police Court today, and hearing of the case was postponed until Thursday.

According to the police of the first precinct he had a misunderstanding with Charles Clarke, forty-five years old, a collector, near the corner of 13th street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, about 11 o'clock last night and refused to accept the kindly offices of Policeman Wolf, who attempted to smooth matters over. The conduct of both men was such, the police state, that it was necessary for the officer to take both men into custody and escort them to the first precinct police station but he only succeeded in doing so by using force after he had exhausted every other means.

Delegate Kalanians'ole became very much incensed at the action of the policeman when he reached the station house and although he was supplied with money, declined to deposit $5 collateral in order to secure his release from custody. An offer was made by the officers on duty at the station house to communicate with his friends, but he declined to avail himself of that privilege, and there was nothing for them to do but to lodge him in a cell, the same treatment given all other prisoners who are locked up pending a Police Court hearing.

This morning he was transferred to court in the Black Maria with a number of other prisoners, and the court officials on learning his identity interested themselves in his behalf and offered to communicate with his friends. This he refused to have them do, and took his place with the other prisoners in the dock of Judge Kimball's court, where he was given his breakfast, a cup of coffee and a sandwich, which the District provides for prisoners every morning before court is opened. In spite of his protestations a friend was notified during the morning of his presence in the Police Court dock awaiting trial on a charge of disorderly conduct and he visited the building, where he left $5 collateral without first seeing Delegate Kalanians'ole. The latter, however, when he was informed of the action taken expressed a willingness to go to trial, but explained that he would like to have the case continued in order that he might have time to secure the presence in court of several witnesses. It was agreed to continue the case, and it was postponed until Thursday morning. Clarke, who is a co-defendant, is at liberty on $5 collateral until the day set for trial. The Hawaiian delegate claimed to the officials, both last night and this morning, that as a member of Congress he was exempt from arrest.
